Dear Sir:

This Society has discontinued publishing the "American Numismatic Journal" and in its place we issue "Numismatic Notes and Monographs" of which I enclosed a list. Possibly your inquiry for a "Numismatic Review" has reference to " The Numismatist" published by the American Numismatic Association, of which I enclose a descriptive circular.

As for a Chinese Republic five dollar gold piece, there have been several varieties, all of which are expensive.. I do not know where you can procure one at a reasonable price. You might write to the following dealers on the enclosed list:

St. Louis Stamp & Coin Company
Henry Chapman
Rudolph Kohler

Yours very truly,

Curator.
